SIR HENRY MORGAN, BUCCANEER

By CYRUS TOWNSEND BRADY,

Author of "The Southerners," "For Love of Country," "The Grip of Honor," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1905, BY G. W. DILLINGHAM COMPANY

"We swear, we swear!" shouted one after another, lifting their hands and brandishing their weapons.

"You hear?" cried Morgan. "Pick up the ladders!"

"For God's sake, sir, unsay your words! We cannot place the ladders which will give you access to yonder helpless town!"

"Then to the men you go!" cried Morgan ruthlessly.

"Death," cried the abbeys, snatching a dagger from the nearest hand and driving it into her breast, "rather than dishonor!"

She held herself proudly erect for a moment, swayed back and forth and then fell prostrate upon the sand, the blood staining her white robe about the hilt of the poniard. She writhed and shuddered in agony where she lay, striving to say something. Fra Antonio sprang to her side and before any one could interfere knelt down.

"I—I have sinned," she gasped. "Mercy, mercy!"

"Thou hast done well. I absolve thee!" cried the priest, making the sign of the cross upon her forehead.

"Death and fury!" shouted Morgan, livid with rage. "Let her die unshriven! Shall I be balked thus?"

He sprang toward the old man, stooping over the woman, and struck him across his shaved crown with the blade of his sword. The priest pitched down instantly, a long shudder running through him; then he lay still.

"Harry Morgan's way!" cried the buccaneer, recovering his blade. "And so?" turning toward the other priests. "Have you had lesson enough? Pick up those ladders, or—"

"Mercy, mercy!" screamed the frightened ecclesiastics.

"Not another word! Drive them forward, men!"

The buccaneers sprang at the terrified priests with weapons out. First one and then another gave way. The only leader among them lay upon the sand. What could they do? They picked up the ladders, and, urged forward by threats and shouts of the buccaneers, under cover of a furious discharge from Morgan's musketeers, they ran to the walls, imploring the Spaniards not to fire upon them.

"Death rather than dishonor!"

When the Spanish commander perceived who were approaching, with a mistaken impulse of mercy he ordered his men to fire over their heads and so a little danger to the approaching buccaneers. A few of them fell, but the rest dashed into the smoke. There was no time for another discharge. The ladders were placed against the walls, and the priests were ruthlessly cut aside and trampled down. In a little space the marauders were upon the ramparts, fighting like demons. Morgan, covered by Black Dog, with lovers each marked her convulsive trembling. The sight appealed profoundly to them in spite of their perilous situation.

"The brave sister lives," whispered Mercedes.

"It's so," answered Alvarado. "Senor," he called, "the sister yonder is alive. Will not allow us to minister to her?"

"Nay," said Hornigold brusquely. "I will go myself. Back, all of ye!" he added. "She may wish to confess to me in default of the worthy father."

He leered hideously as he spoke. "Coward!" cried Alvarado. But his words affected Hornigold not at all.

Before he could say another word the guards forced him rudely back with the two women. The worthy Senora Agapida by this time was in a state of complete and total collapse, but Mercedes bore herself—her lover marked with pleasure—as proudly and as resolutely as if she still stood within her father's palace surrounded by men who loved her and who would die for her.

Rolling the body of the prostrate old man aside, Hornigold knelt down on the white sand by the form of the sister. The moonlight shone full upon her face, and as he stooped over he scanned it with his one eye. A sudden flash of recognition came to him. With a muttered oath of surprise he looked again.

"It can't be!" he exclaimed. "And yet!"

After Fra Antonio's brave attempt at absolution the woman had fainted. Now she opened her eyes, although she was not yet fully conscious.

"Water!" she gasped feebly. And as it chanced the boatswain had a small bottle of the precious fluid hanging from a strap over his shoulder. There was no pity in the heart of the pirate; he would have allowed the woman to die gasping for water without giving her a second thought, but when he recognized her—or thought he did—there instantly sprang into his mind a desire to make sure. If she were the person he thought she she might have information of value. Unsuspecting the bottle and pulling out the cork, he placed it to her lips.

"I die," she murmured in a stronger voice. "A priest!"

"There is none here," answered the boatswain. "Fra Antonio—he absolved you."

"But I must confess."

"Confess to me," chuckled the old man in ghastly mockery.

"Art in holy orders, senor?" muttered the woman.

"Holy enough for you. Say on."

"Fra Antonio, now," she continued, vacantly lapsing into semidelirium. "He married us—twas a secret—his rank was so great. He was rich, I poor—humble. The marriage lines—in the cross. There was a—What's that? A shot? The buccaneers. They are coming! Go not, Francisco!"

Hornigold, bending an attentive ear to these broken sentences, lost not a word.

"Go not," she whispered, striving to lift an arm, "they will kill thee! Thou shalt not leave me alone, my Francisco. The boy—in Panama!"

No Peace in Sight.

Chicago, June 12.—Negotiations for peace in the teamsters' strike, which promised for a time last week to be successful, have apparently been abandoned, as both sides are so far apart on any plans of any settlement by mediation that further efforts in this direction are regarded as useless. Unless both sides to the trouble show a disposition to offer concessions, any conciliatory settlement of the struggle appears to be a long way off.

A Nebraska Tragedy.

Plattsburgh, Neb., June 12.—Max Ploehn shot and killed his cousin, Miss Alma Goss, and shot and seriously wounded her sister Emma at their home two miles south of here, and made his escape. The shooting is said to have been the result of jealousy.

EARLY ARMISTICE

The Bayonets of Two Great Armies Will Soon Be Lowered.

THIS IS WORLD'S HOPE

Preliminary Step Toward Peace Finds Its Reflection In General Expressions of Satisfaction

Careful Diplomacy Extending Over Weeks of Negotiation Will Be Required.

Tokio, June 12.—Tokio has calmly received the news of American intervention and prospective peace. The assurance that Russia will accept President Roosevelt's proposal, and the knowledge that the final consummation of peace involves the adjustment of a series of questions of paramount importance, requiring the most careful diplomacy extending over weeks of negotiation, coupled perhaps with the recollection of a previous experience in the thorny path of the world's politics, seem to create a disposition to await final results. There is nevertheless the keenest satisfaction over the preliminary step and a feeling of deep gratefulness over President Roosevelt's action.

There is also genuine thanksgiving at the thought that the carnage and horror and waste of war will soon end and a genuine hope that the negotiations will bring a satisfactory and enduring peace.

The national rejoicing and thanksgiving will probably be deferred until the treaty of peace is signed and all doubt ended.

The question of an armistice which will lower the bayonets of the two enormous armies facing one another on the Manchurian frontier has not been discussed, yet it is believed that an armistice will be speedily concluded.

The Japanese plenipotentiaries to arrange terms of peace are already being discussed. The names of Marquis Ito, Premier Katsura, Foreign Minister Komura, Marquis Yamagata and others are being suggested for possible heads of the commission.

Popular estimates of Japan's terms of peace vary widely and include both indemnity and cession of territory. It is believed that the peace commissioners will meet somewhere in the Orient.

RUSSIA RECEPTIVE

Government of the Czar Waiting for Japan to Give the Word.

St. Petersburg, June 12.—Russia is waiting for Japan to fix the time and the place when and where the Japanese terms will be placed in the hands of Russia's representatives.

The foreign office expects that the delay will be brief. The emperor's government would prefer that Paris should be the scene of the initial step, but it is explained that neither the place nor the personality of the Russian representative matters greatly. The Russian representative will not be a plenipotentiary with full power to negotiate. His duty will practically be confined to the reception and transmission to his government of the Japanese terms for decision as to whether they afford a basis for actual peace negotiations. He will be clothed with power to effect an agreement for the suspension of hostilities, which suspension will probably be for a very limited period, during which Russia must decide the momentous question of peace or a prolongation of the war.

During this temporary armistice both countries probably will be free to continue the movement of troops and munitions of war within prescribed limits, although nothing definite on this point will be known until the meeting takes place.

If Russia finds that the terms are on a basis on which negotiations can proceed, regular plenipotentiaries will be appointed, the number being decided by the belligerents themselves, and then it is not impossible that the negotiations might be transferred to Manchuria, as President Roosevelt is believed to have suggested.

It is stated at the foreign office that the question of plenipotentiaries has not yet been officially considered, but it is regarded as almost certain that Baron Rosen, the ambassador to the United States, on account of his long and intimate acquaintance with far Eastern affairs, besides his familiarity with Japanese, will be selected. President Roosevelt also might be of service in arranging the preliminaries, but Russia would be disposed to respect his advice to settle all questions after the first meeting directly with Japan. While proffering all the aid in his power, it is well understood here that the president, having served to bring the representatives of the warring countries face to face, believes it would be to the best interests of all concerned that he step aside. The United States, it is recognized here, desires to keep all the powers out of temptation when the spoils of war come to be divided, and this position is considered to be the logical sequence of the pledges secured by Secretary Hay at the opening of the conflict.

Too much credit for the president's diplomatic triumph cannot be bestowed on Ambassador Meyer, who handed the Russian end with consummate skill, keeping his own counsel even against the applause of his colleagues in the diplomatic corps and going straight to the throne with the president's message, thus avoiding the formalities, delays and possible complications of the regular bureaucratic channels. President Roosevelt through Ambassador Meyer, has sent a personal message of thanks to Emperor Nicholas for the reception of his appeal.

In diplomatic circles here it is felt that Great Britain can now play a great role in seconding the president's initiative by restraining her ally and counselling moderate terms. Harsh and humiliating terms would not be accepted, and for that reason diplomatic circles express the greatest skepticism as to whether Japan, elated by her wonderful victories, will be reasonable enough to offer a basis which Russians can possibly accept. If in the end Russia were forced to humble herself in the dust, her ignominy would spur her to seek revenge.

There is an infinite amount of gossip here about Japan's terms, but it is almost altogether irresponsible, the best informed members of the diplomatic corps, even the British embassy, being convinced that while the main outlines are matters of common knowledge in America and in the chancelleries of Europe, Japan has not revealed her exact terms even to her ally.

Russia is not likely to prove recalcitrant. According to the best opinion she is prepared to abandon the whole of her Manchurian adventure and give guarantees. The rub will come upon the question of an indemnity, which it is the consensus of opinion in diplomatic circles Japan will exact, but if it should be made moderate and sugar-coated so that it could be liquidated by the sale of the Chinese Eastern railroad and the cession of Russian property and leases in the Kwantun peninsula, it might be overcome.

PEACE TERMS

- the Victor.
- Indemnity of $500,000,000.
- Japanese protectorate over Manchuria and Korea.
- Cession of Port Arthur and part of the Trans-Manchurian railroad to Japan.
- Forfeiture of the interned warships.
- Withdrawal of Russian warships from the far East for a period of twenty-five years.
- The occupation of Vladivostok until these conditions are fulfilled.
- The Vanquished.
- A qualified acceptance of the above terms, save that relating to indemnity, which is rejected.

American Diplomacy Popular.

Paris, June 12.—President Roosevelt's success in opening a way for peace negotiations between Russia and Japan is the absorbing theme here, and France has forgotten her own troubles with Germany over Morocco to join in enthusiastic approval of the American initiative. Without exception comment on President Roosevelt's action is favorable to the expression of a slight sense of disappointment that France as the ally of Russia has not taken a more prominent part in effecting the preliminaries.

Word From the Front.

Tokio, June 12.—The following report has been received from the headquarters of the Manchurian armies: "On June 9 at 4 in the morning we drove the enemy from the northern heights of Liangshichuan and Nanchengtsu and occupied those positions. On the same day we occupied the vicinity of Ershihillpa, ten miles northeast of Changtu; Shufang and Tungchiatsu, ten miles north of Changtuax and Hoingtungshan, thirteen miles northwest of Changtu. Otherwise the situation is unchanged."

GALLOWS FOR WOMAN

Mrs. Myers Sentenced to Hang by Missouri Jury.

Liberty, Mo., June 12.—The jury which has been sitting for the past week in the case of Agnes Myers of Kansas City, charged with the murder of her husband, Clarence Myers, has returned a verdict of guilty of murder in the first degree. This verdict means that the death penalty by hanging is to be inflicted. The crime for which Mrs. Myers was convicted was one of the most atrocious ever committed. According to the story of her paramour, Frank Hottman, who confessed to being an accomplice with Mrs. Myers in the murder of her husband, the crime was premeditated and was executed in the most brutal manner. Hottman was tried last February for the crime and was convicted and is now awaiting the death penalty.

BIG BUFFALO HUNT

A Feature of Sunday Entertainment Offered National Editors.

IMMENSE GRAND STAND

Was Erected For the Occasion and Indians Turned Loose Upon Captive Herd of Buffalo.

National Editorial Association Joins With the Forty Thousand Spectators of Scene.

Bliss, Okla., June 12.—Forty thousand people were entertained by Miller Brothers at the 101 ranch Sunday, the visit of the National Editorial association to the ranch being made the occasion for a buffalo hunt, a buffalo dinner and an Indian celebration. The editors, many of whom were accompanied by ladies, arrived at the ranch at 11 o'clock over the Santa Fe in a special train.

In the editorial party were many Oklahoma editors who had accompanied the members of the national association on their trip through the territory. The general public had been invited to the entertainment. The Santa Fe railroad, which runs through the ranch, carried 20,000 people to 101, and as many more drove in to attend the show. An immense grandstand extending the length of the arena was built for the visitors. The arena itself was half a mile long and a third of a mile wide. To handle the crowd required 200 passenger coaches.

The Ponca and Otoe Indians, whose lands are being allotted, had planned a celebration to take place some time during the spring, to which they expected to invite all the other Indians in the territory to help them celebrate the dissolution of their tribal ties. This was arranged to take place at the same time as the editors' visit. The ranch bought thirty-five head of buffalo in Montana, transported them to the ranch and planned a buffalo chase by Indians. A buffalo dinner was one of the day's features. Each one of the special guests, and there were altogether not less than 2,000, was served with a piece of buffalo meat in connection with the dinner. Beside the buffalo chase the program included a wild west show with roping and riding contests, Indian dances, a stage robbery and a miniature reproduction of the rush into the Cherokee strip.

The program included a parade beginning with the Indians, followed by the ox team and prize schooner, and ending with an $18,000 automobile.

ARK OF THE COVENANT

Symbol of Jewish Perpetuity Safe in Abyssinian Temple.

Berlin, June 12.—Dr. Rosen, minister-elect to Morocco, has returned from Adis Ababa, Abyssinia, where he had gone as special envoy of Germany to King Menelik for the purpose of concluding a commercial treaty between Abyssinia and this country.

Dr. Rosen's personal estimate of King Menelik, whose language he speaks and whose associate he was for some weeks, is that he is essentially a man of sound morals and excellent principles, even according to the European standard, and that in the king he lives up to these principles.

King Menelik's own belief, according to Dr. Rosen, is that he is descended from a son of Solomon and the Queen of Sheba; that this son, who was called Prince Menelik the First, with a following of picked men, Jews and Sabians, went into Ethiopia and lived and thrived there and that these Jews were the founders of the present Abyssinian race. Menelik the First is supposed to have taken the Ark of the Covenant with him, and it is still asserted to be in a temple at Aksum. No European has ever seen it, but it has not been seen even by the present ruler of Abyssinia himself, only priests of high grade who are unscrupulously permitted to behold it.

Will Not Recognize Revolution.

Stockholm, June 12.—Premier Ramstedt, in an interview, says the Swedish government will refuse to recognize the revolution in Norway and will submit to the riksdag motions conformable to this standpoint. The premier thinks that the riksdag will adopt this view and is convinced that no foreign power will recognize Norway as an independent country against the will of Sweden.

It Stands Alone.

Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription stands alone, as the one and only remedy for leucorrhea, female weakness, pro-lapsus, or falling of the womb, so absolutely specific and sure in curing these common ailments of women, as to warrant its makers in offering to pay, as they hereby do, the sum of $500 reward for a case of the above maladies which they can not cure. This is a remarkable offer. No other medicine for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments is backed by such a remarkable guarantee. No other medicine for woman's ills is possessed of the unparalleled curative properties that would warrant its makers in publishing such an offer; no other remedy has such a record of a third of a century of cures on which to base such a remarkable offer.

Miss Emma Weller, who is Secretary of the Young People's Christian Association, at 181 Madison Avenue, New York City, says: "Your Favorite Prescription" is a boon to sick and tired women. For it cures them when other medicines fail. I know whereof I speak, for I have had experience with it. For fourteen months I had constant headaches; seemed too weak to perform my daily duties, and when the day was over I was too tired to sleep well. I suffered from nervousness and indigestion, and everything I ate distressed me. Doctored with different physicians but received no relief. After reading one of your books I decided to give your Favorite Prescription a trial. Am very glad I did, for I found it was just what I wanted. I commenced to improve at once and kept getting better until, after seven weeks, I was entirely cured. I have remained in perfect health ever since, and remain a firm friend of your "Favorite Prescription."

The dealer who offers a substitute for "Favorite Prescription" is only seeking to make the little more profit afforded by a less meritorious medicine. His profit is your loss. Therefore, turn your back on him as unworthy of your patronage.

If constipated use Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They cure constipation, biliousness and sick headache. They do not produce the "pill habit."

WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, Proprietors, Buffalo, N. Y.

Among the medicines for women complaints the Bitters has long been recognized as the best. It's 50 years' record proves its value without doubt. Try it for Sleeplessness, Backaches, Bloating, Sick Headache, Nervous Stomach, Dyspepsia and Indigestion. It always cures.

BORN.

To Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moore, a son, Sunday, June 11th.

Osteopathy is a science of healing based upon the most perfect obtainable knowledge of anatomy and physiology of the human body. It is not faith cure or massage. Osteopathy reasons that when all the structures and tissues of the body are in their position and condition so that nerve forces and circulation of the fluids are in no way interfered with, health is the natural result. It means the location of the cause of diseased conditions, and the removal or correction of the cause and the restoration of normal nerve and blood conditions. During the past four months Dr. Dawson has demonstrated that Osteopathy will do all that has been claimed for it, having cured both acute and chronic conditions where other methods have failed to relieve.

Furious Fighting.

"For seven years," writes Geo. W. Hoffman, of Harper, Wash., "I had a bitter battle with chronic stomach and liver trouble, but at last I won, and cured my diseases by the use of Electric Bitters. I unhesitatingly recommend them to all, and don't intend in the future to be without them in the house. They are certainly a wonderful medicine to have cured such a bad case as mine." ## MEMORIAL SERMON.

Graves of Deceased Knights Decorated Sunday Afternoon.

At the Presbyterian church, of which he is the pastor, Rev. Dr. G. W. Shields addressed the members of the Knights of Pythias and Uniform Rank and the ladies of the Order of Rathbone Sisters Sunday morning. The services were very interesting throughout, and the special and appropriate music prepared for the occasion was thoroughly enjoyed.

Dr. Shields took as the subject of his address the words in the first verse of the fifteenth chapter of Paul's epistle to the Romans,—"We then that are strong ought to bear the infirmities of the weak." His address was eloquent and inspiring. His discrimination between the weak and the strong was delivered with force and his injunction to all the strong to do their duty as a fraternal order to shield the weak was very impressive and helpful.

There was a large attendance of Knights, besides the regular congregation.

In the afternoon the members of Hermon Lodge, including Success Company under the command of Capt. G. G. Graessle, met at Castle Hall and headed by the band marched to the cemetery to decorate the graves of departed brothers.

The ritualistic services were given at the grave of the late J. W. Massman. A triangular wreath of flowers was placed on the grave of every Knight buried here. Below are given the names of the Knights of Pythias buried here together with the date of death:

The Doctor in the Duel.

A medical man in France was asked to be present at a duel in his professional capacity. He got up early, traveled some miles, "flamed" the swords and ministered to his client, who was slightly wounded. When both honor and wound were healed he looked for his fees and sent in a bill for $10. The patient replied through his wife, who wrote: "I am told that between men there is a question of delicacy which forbids even the slightest appearance of trade in such a matter. Neither the doctors nor the seconds are brought on the ground for money. If you persist in your claim I shall, to my great regret, be obliged to leave to others the duty of settling this fine point with you."

When Women Smoked.

In a copy of the Old Farmer's Almanac, printed about 1800, we find the following article on "the prevention and extinction of fires": "Never read in bed by candlelight, especially if your bed is surrounded by curtains. Strictly forbid the use of cigars in your family at all times, but especially after night. There is good reason to suppose a house was lately set on fire by a half consumed cigar, which a woman suddenly threw away to prevent being detected in the unhealthy and offensive practice of smoking."

WOMAN'S SYMPATHY

Is Proverbial—The Women of Seymour No Exception.

How much we owe to the sympathetic side of womankind. When others suffer they cheerfully lend a helping hand. They tell you the meams which brought relief to them that you may profit by their experience. Read the testimony given here by a Seymour woman.

Mrs. John Owen, corner of Beech and Jackson streets, says: "I suffered dreadfully from back and kidneys and there were pains in my back and kidneys and in my head. I doctored and doctored but received no permanent benefit. My kidneys were out of order, the secretions were annoying and my rest was much disturbed at night. I found that my heart was being affected as time went by. On learning of Doan's Kidney pills sold by C. W. Milhous, I procured a box. Although I had little expectation of finding relief, I was more than gratified when I found they promptly benefited me, relieved me of pain in my back, strengthened the kidneys and banished the annoyance from the secretions."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster—Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

SEEING ATER

Wonderful Scenic Trip Across Rocky Mountains to Oregon Exposition.

In certain respects the excursions to the Lewis and Clark Centennial Exposition, Portland, Oregon, via Pennsylvania Lines, beginning May 23rd and continuing through the summer, offer advantages never before presented to Exposition visitors. The trip to the Oregon Exposition, in addition to the attractiveness of the extensive exhibits, includes the journey through the scenic wonderland of the Rocky Mountains and the Cascade Range, and what American has not looked forward from the days of the geography class in school to the time when those great sights should be seen in reality? The time was never so favorable as now. The trip may be made less expensive than ever. For only a slight difference in fare tourists may extend the return trip to San Francisco and Los Angeles. The return trip may be made over a different route, enabling travelers to view much more of the west. For full particulars, fares, dates of special excursions to Portland on account of conventions, through time and passenger service apply to ticket agent of Pennsylvania Lines.

Indiana Club at Denver.

A letter from W. C. Williams, Sec. International Epworth League Convention to Rev. J. M. Cause, representative of the State Cabinet, is of general interest to all Hoosiers. We have so many relatives and friends who have gone to Colorado. One paragraph of the letter reads:—"I take great pleasure in informing you that the Indiana State Club camped of Indiana people now living in Denver, was formed last night with a large attendance and great enthusiasm. I have never seen anything to equal the enthusiasm of Indiana people in regard to their home state, and your Indiana delegation can be assured of a warm welcome from old friends. Spread this news all over the state for it will help in bringing a large delegation to the convention." Convention time is July 5-9. Folders are out telling all about the trip. Interested parties should write to state or district officers.

A Fearful Fight.

It is a fearful fate to have to endure the terrible torture of piles. "I can truthfully say," writes Harry Colson, of Masonville, Ia., "that for blind, bleeding, itching and protruding piles, Bucklen's Arnica Salve, is the best cure made." Also best for cuts, burns and injuries. 25c at W. F. Peter Drug Co.

A Home of Your Own.

Why not stop paying rent and own a home of your own in South Dakota? There you can secure a good start on the highway to independence. In 1903, South Dakota for the sixth consecutive time led all other states in the production of per capita wealth. In other words, South Dakota is long on wealth but short on people. If you are interested, why not writetoday for a copy of the new book about the state and its opportunity? Direct service to South Dakota by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway.

Stacks of Wall Paper

In all conceivable designs are here. If you knew how cheap artistic wall paper is at our store, you wouldn't let those rooms go another season with their old wall covering.

3. A guaranteed amount to be received by the purchaser in cash or surrender of the contract; or

NO FEE TO FISH

In Michigan, the Mecca This Year of Indiana Tourists as in Years Past.

Positive information received from Michigan authorities states there is no truth whatever in a report that an annual fee of $5 or any other fee will be imposed on non-resident fishermen in Michigan. A rumor of such a law having been passed in Michigan is stamped as also duly without foundation. The origin of this false report is traced to talk current last winter when a question was raised in legislative proceedings concerning the subject, but no action taken, legislators not deeming such a measure advisable. Nothing further has been done, and tourists from Indiana are assured that they need not forego their customary outing to Michigan resorts this summer on the score of being confronted by a tax collector, for there are none such to bar the way.

Judging from the many inquiries already received by W. W. Richardson, Assistant General Passenger Agent of the Pennsylvania Lines, Indianapolis, regarding Michigan resorts and the famous fishing, there will be more than the usual number of Indiana tourists enjoy their summer outing in those health and pleasure havens where neither hay fever nor fishing fees exist.
